ABOUT ME

I work out how a business actually runs, then fix the parts that don't. For the past few years I've done that from two sides at once: managing the daily running of a café and cocktail bar, and building my own company, Dandelion Creations, where I design the invoicing, CRM and reporting tools small businesses use to run their admin.

I'm as comfortable in a spreadsheet as I am on a call with a supplier. When I don't know something, I read up on it, ask the person who does, and then build the thing. I like variety, and I stay with a job until it works.

THINGS I'VE BUILT

- Payability. An invoicing and debtors system that runs inside Google Sheets. It handles multi-line invoices, part payments, credit notes, recurring invoices, debtor ageing, client statements and a VAT report set out for SARS. I designed it, wrote the code, tested it and sell it as a finished product.
- Smaller tools in the same style for bookings, receipt tracking, household budgeting and content planning.
- My own website, dandelioncreations.co.za, written in Next.js and React.

EXPERIENCE

Dandelion Creations, Founder

2022 to present

A side business building systems and automation for small businesses.

- Run all of it myself: pricing, budgets, invoicing, marketing, sales and client relationships.
- Take each project from the first conversation about the problem through to build, testing, handover and support.
- Look for repetitive manual work and replace it with something that runs on its own, using Google Apps Script, JavaScript, React and Next.js.

nVolve Solutions, Social Media Manager and Business Support

2025 to Nov 2026

A machine control and survey equipment business serving construction, surveying, mining and agriculture.

- Planned and ran digital marketing and content, working independently across several workstreams at once.
- Researched products, suppliers and competitors, and turned technical detail into content customers could follow.
- Supported product marketing, business communication and admin.

Bespoke Café and Cocktail Bar, Management and Operations

2023 to 2025

- Ran the business day to day: staff, service, stock, purchasing and suppliers.
- Looked after the operating budget, financial admin and cash flow.
- Organised events and dealt with whatever went wrong on the day.

The Space in the Willows, Freelance Admin and Operations Support

2023 to 2025

A holistic health and wellness centre in Pretoria that houses a dental practice, physiotherapy, psychology and other practitioners under one roof. I did this alongside the café job: scheduling, client communication and record keeping.
